FAQs

Can I bring my team? Can I transfer my invite?

Compile is invite-only, but if you want to recommend another attendee or send someone else from your team, reply to your invitation or email compile@cursor.com.

Who is Compile designed for?

Engineers, researchers, and builders who want to think seriously about software: how it is made, how it changes, and what we can build next.

Will the event be accessible to my needs?

The event will be ADA accessible, with food options to accommodate all allergens. Please share any specific needs with our team in your registration.

What is the schedule?

We will share the agenda closer to the event.

I have more questions.

Reach out to our team at compile@cursor.com.
